TODAY. A famous British writer-lecturer will be interviewed today by Prof. Marcus Long from noon till 12:45. Angus Wilson has written novels, short stories, and a play. Recently he toured and lectured in the U.S. You may bring your lunch, as this "Noon-Hour Conversation" is in the Hart House quadrangle.

TOMORROW! Powerful gigantic machines, engineering labs, wind tunnels, gas turbines, and other fascinating features of this campus are usually closed to public view. But tomorrow, a special tour for summer students will exhibit these Engineering features in action. Explanations will be provided; thus men and women will find the tour interesting and exciting. Sign the list in the Information Centre in Hart House soon; meet at 2:45 Tuesday inside the Mechanical Building entrance.

THE WESTERN VIEW. Having heard a Russian view of the roadblocks to peace last week, we should enjoy hearing the Western view this Wednesday. Mr. Eugene Patterson, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, is the speaker at this second President's Lecture. Convocation Hall, 12:00 - 1:15.

DANCE AND SPLASH. Last Wednesday's informal "hop" and splash party in Hart House was a great success. In fact, the dance floor was so crowded that the dancing this Wednesday will be in the large Debates Room, and huge fans will be used to keep things "real cool". Movies, cards, and the pool will again be available. Also, members of the Students' Committee will arrange for music in the Record Room, and soft drinks. Come alone or bring a friend - it's free! 9:00 till midnight.

Before the "do" begins, George and Mary Lewis will instruct in Latin American dances (starting at 8:00) for only a dollar; other dances will be taught on the two following Wednesdays.

"FOUR FAMILIES" This one-hour movie shows on-the-spot comparisons of family life in India, France, Japan, and Canada. Actual families and scenes. Margaret Mead, the anthropologist and author, discusses the national characteristics. Thursday at 1:00 in East Common Room (Hart House) and Friday 12:00 in G.C.E. auditorium. Bring your lunch if you wish.

TEACHING MACHINES. Programmed instruction will be illustrated by Dr. John Paul at 5:00, one week from today, in the East Common Room of Hart House. Teachers, parents, and others should be fascinated by this new method of teaching.

CAMPUS TOUR. A guided tour of the campus will describe the main buildings and points of interest at this largest university in Canada. The one-hour walking tour will start from the O.C.E. front door at 3:00 Wednesday, and will end on "Fraternity Row". Bring your friends and family if you wish. (Thursday if it rains Wed.)

HART HOUSE. Lounges, record rooms, art and sculpture displays, and many other facilities are available for your enjoyment. Hart House is a real summer community gathering place. It even provides Carillon concerts - each Thursday evening at 8:00. The art gallery, down the left-hand stairs as you enter, has a display of Mrs. Edith Z. Ivan's work this month. The varied works of this talented artist include portraits, abstracts, sketches, and a crowd scene that is symbolic of the Hungarian revolution. Have you noticed her other crowd scene in the Arbor Room?

RANDOM JOTTINGS. Penalty fees are imposed for General and Type A exam applications received after today. --- Your student card will admit you free to the Royal Ontario Museum --- Stratford tours attend Macbeth tomorrow and Taming of the Shrew next week.
